Photographer

PERSONAL PROFILE

Everyone has their "thing" in life, and my thing is photography. To be able to see the world creatively through a viewfinder is a great source of happiness in my life and as such, I carry my camera with me everywhere I go. My camera is an extension of my eyes and without it, I would simply exist in this world rather than truly be living in it.

MENTORSHIP

BRYAN PETERSON

International Photographer/Author 2003 - 2005

The way Bryan Peterson taught me to truly see the world around me is what ultimately started my passion for photography, because he was so passionate about teaching it. His teachings were so impactful in my life that I will forever notice things around me that most people wouldn't even realize were there, because a good photo could be hiding anywhere. Still to this day, twenty years later, I learn new things from Bryan Peterson, and still to this day, I get excited about it!
